GERRY'S FINE HAND.

It Helped to Pry McAllister Off the Committee.

A Pretty State of Things Revealed by the Four Hundred's Boss.

It's About Time, by the Way, for That Committee of Public Comfort.

A List of the Purchasers of the Metropolitan Opera-House Boxes.

Just as the knowing ones anticipated, Stuy Fish and his friends on the Entertainment Committee, backed up by the potent influence of Mr. Gerry, have proved too much for Ward Mo-

In the expressive words of the Hoosier poet, he is a "gone coon," so far as any connection with the ball and banquet is concerned, and even the floor managership has passed away from him.

The reply received from Secretary Gouverneur Morris in response to his little "feeler," sent last Friday to ascertain what the actual sentiments of the Entertainment Committee were towards him, did the business. Mr. Morris answered plainly and to the point, by saying it was not the wish of the Committee hat he should continue to fill the office of ball

Thereupon the leader of the Four Hundred washed his hands of the whole business, and his resignation as manager and member of the Enertainment Committee are in the hands of Mayor Grant and Clerk Bowen, respectively. There are several members of the Committee, however, who will probably have reason to repent their harsh treatment of the industrious ex-manager before he gets through with them. Ward received a pretty hard knock-down, but he comes up smiling, and the gore in his eye bodes no good to either Mr. Fish or M., Gerry, whom, it appears, he first antagonized by leaving their respective wives out of the quadrille d'homeur, with which the ball was to be opened.

Mr. McAllister makes no secret of the matter now and says he did it with no intention of slighting the ladies in question, but simply in furtherance of his pian to have none but direct descendants of the Fathers of the Republic descendance of the restriction. WAR TO THE KNIFE.

This incensed Fish and Gerry to such a degree that they could hardly restrain themselves from going for Mr. McAllister and pitching him overboard at once.

They were still madder when the list as proposed by the manager was the one finally agreed upon. Then it was war to the knife, and in the fight poor McAllister had no show at all.

He is evidently in possession of information, however, which enables him to more than get even with his amenies, and at the same time give the public an interesting insight into the manner in which the people's celebration was being run.

FISH'S IDEA. PISH'S IDEA.

In the first place he says that it was Mr. Pish's idea to make the ball and banquet simply a Republican ovation, a scheme which he (SicAlister) promptly nipped in the bud, thereby inengring the displeasure of Mr. Fish and causing the dist friction in the Committee, which subsequent events only served to aggravate.

With regard to the general aspect of the situation at this point Mr. McAllistor remarks with confidence that he felt himself stronger on balls than a railroad President, and he did not fail to let him understand that he thoughtso.

CAUSES OF THE FRAY. CAUSES OF THE PRAY.

Mr. Gerry also gave as his opinion about this time that it did not make much difference whether they had bonbons or pork and beans at the supper so long as there was a good growt, which was an idea, of a successful ball with which Mr. McAllister could not bring himself to agree. Mr. Gerry was accordingly squelched by him temporarily.

MR. GERRY WANTED TO PRESIDE.

MR. GERRY WANTED TO PRESIDE.

The best story of all is on Mr. Gerry, who wanted to preside at the banquet and have the President or his right-hand side.

Mr. McAllister says he opposed this proposition or the lart of Gerry as a most preposterous notion, because he had arranged to have Mayor Grant, as the chief magistrate of the city, do the honors of the occasion, which was entirely appropriate, the celebration being a New York affair, and not one gotten up for the especial benefit of Messrs, Gerry and Wish, as those gentlemen seemed to imagine.

HIS IDEA OF THE MAYOR'S DUTIES. The only duty which Mr. Gerry thought fit for the Mayor to perform was to receive the President in the gutter in front of the Opera-House, and he was annoyed and indignant that Mr. Modlis-ter should entertain other views on the subject.

MR. GERRY'S ESTIMATE OF MAYOR GRANT. "Somebody's got to preside at the banque who can run the speeches," says Mr. Gerry. "Grant can't do it: be hasn't got brain

Mr. McAllister vouches for the accuracy of this speech, which he says are the very words Mr. Gerry used.

Although he did not succeed in convincing Mr. Gerry that the Gerry brain was not the largest and most symmetrically developed brain in town, he was sible to create such a reasonable doubt of this fact in the minds of the Committee that they decided it would be perfectly safe to give the Mayor a chance.

doubt of this fact in the doubt of this fact in the decided it would be perfectly sate to give the Mayor a chance.

In view of Mr. McAllister's repeated victories over Messrs. Fishiand Gerry in the matter of the arrangements for the ball and banquet, and the fact that these festivities are to be carried out exactly as be plauned them, it is not surprising that he should feel himself cutified to a moral triumph, although he has been derived in a measure of the honorable fruits of his toil.

MORE ECONOMICAL, TOO.

He claims that he could have carried out the plan arranged for $25,000 less than will be spent under the present management, and the albamy legislators are already figuring on an investigating committee, which will try and find out how the $250,000 appropriation has been expended.

Another interesting revelation which has been made through the medium of the present controversy is the fact that there are two Four Hundreds in the city. One of these, according to Mr. Fish, is the McAllister Four Hundred, and the other, the one to which he himself belongs, and which is entirely distinct and separate from the MeAllister growd.

The meeting of the two phalances at the ball is an event which is to be looked forward to with considerable anxiety.

MR. FISH SOMEWHAT PLANBERGASTED. MR. Fish somewhat Flandergastro.

Mr. Fish is all broken up over Mr. McAllister's disclosures and has nothing to say except that the ex-manager was incompetent and he can show when the proper time comes good reasons for advocating his removal.

Like Mr. McAllister, he wants to postpone all further hostilities till after the celebration.

The place of meeting, as well as the seconds, will be duly announced before the sanguinary encounter between the leaders of the Patriarcha and the Assembly Four Hundred takes place.

THE DIFLORATIC CORPS WEGLEGIED.

THE DIPLOMATIC CORPS NEGLECTED.

Owing to the continued internal disturbances of the Committee it appears that the diplomatic corps had been left out altogether, and unless something is very speedily done not a single foreign minister or stache of legation will be represented at the celebration.

The foreign ministers played an important role in the inauguration festivities 100 years ago, and to leave them entirely out of the present celebration is one of the most serious blunders that the Committee has yet been guilty of.

Just at present nobody seems to know exactly how it came to be overlooked, and members of the Executive Committee are trying to find out whose fault it is.

A delegation of the stable-owners whose property is opposite the Metropolitan Opera-House called on Mayor Grant to-day to ask what could be done to restrain Mc-Allister's Committee from building a lot of wooden annexes over Thirty-unith street for the ball and banquet, claiming that such a course interfered with their business. The Mayor referred the Committee to Mr. Gerry. The stablemen threaten to apply for an injunction.

STANDS FOR THE ALDERMEN.

PREPARING TO PUT SOME BIG ONES UP ON THEIR OWN ACCOUNT.

"Independence of the Four Hundred!" is the war cry of the Board of Aldermen and, although the Centennial Committee have offered to provide accommodations for the City Fathers on their reviewing stands, these gentlemen propose to have stands of ther own.

This they find a difficult matter, as the Four Hundred have gobbled up nearly every available site for a stand.

Alderman Walker, however, has been casting about for locations, and has hit upon two which he hopes to secure.

One is in front of the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum in Fifth avenue, just above the Cathe-dral, where a mammoth structure can be erected, if the consent of the directors can be draft, where a limited of the directors can be obtained.

The other is at the Stewart mansion, Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue.

If neither of these sites can be obtained Alderman Walker says that there temains the top of the aquediuct, between Fortieth and Forty-second streets, where the city law-makers can perch above the heads of the Four Hundred and the stant below.

The bill which authorizes the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to appropriate $15,000 to be expeuded by the Aldermen in decorations and fireworks on the occasion of the Inauguration Centennial is merely permistive and Ald Walker is expending all his persuasive eloquence upon the

They made another attempt to fulfil their orders and finally succeeded in overpowering the fireman and carrying him below decks, where he kicked and swore for half an hour, when an officer arrived and placed him under arrest.

It took three men and the officers to get Sacgers to a cell in the First District Police Station. As nobody would make a complaint this morning. Justice Stilsing, discharged him.

He has been reinstated to his position on the ship.

THE INJUNCTION DISSOLVED.

The Western Union Poles Must Come Down Unless Another Stay Is Granted.

Mayor Grant received a telegramifrom John M. Bowers, at Syracuse, this morning, amouncing the signing of the order dissolving the injunction in the case of the Western Union Telegraph Company against the Board of Electrical Con-

Company against the Board of Electrical Control.

Mr. Bowers represented the Board on the argument, and went to Syracuse to obtain Judge Wallace's signature.

The order will be entered in the Clerk's office in this city to-morrow, when the Mayor will be handed a certified copy.

This official notification will be followed immediately by an order from the Mayor to the Commissioner of Public Works to remove the Western Union poles and wires in the subway district, unless another stay is obtained by Gould's company to prevent the taking of such action.

WONDERFUL

Plant Almost Worshipped for Its Marvellous Powers

When, some years elvos, a small band of asientific travellers penetrated into the hears of a distant tropical country, they found a most wenderful medicinal plant, the remarkable virtues and powers of which had been known and utilized there for generations. The most marvellons stories are told of the affects of this plant upon the nerrous system and physical strength. It is an absolutely certain ours for physical and nerrous exhaustion and prostration, and such is its and herrous exhaustion and prostration, and such is its strengthening and invigorating effects upon the human system that its use is almost universal among those people to keep the physical and nerve powers up to a high standard of perfection.

This marvellous plant enters into the preparation as one of the ingredients of the wonderful remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great nerve and brain invigorant and strength restorer. Na other remedy ever possessed so truly wonderful powers for restoring strength, vigor and vitality to the nerves and system as this wonderful discovery, which has saved thousands upon thousands from paralysis, invanity, nervous prostration, physical exhaustice or death. It is beyond prostration, physical exhaustion or death. It is beyond all question the greatest health restorer in existence. For nervousness and physical exhaustion, nervous debility, nervous prostration, sleepleseness, weak-ness, despondency, mental depression and kindred nervous diseases it is a guaranteed cure. In those cases where there is a weak, tired or languid feeling, with no life nor vitality to the nervous or physical system where one wakes tired and unrefreshed, with full head, and there is no power or endurance, every movement or exertion, mental or physical, being exhausting, making one feet unequal to the work of the day, it is an absolutely certain restorer of nervous strength and vitality and perfect physical vigor. It will cure paralysis, insanity, epileptic fits, peuralgia, palpitation of the heart nervous or sick headsche, dyspepsia, indigestion, spring debility, constipation, biliousness, poor blood, kidney and liver complaints, and all diseases of the nervous system.

Dr. Greene's Nervura may be obtained at any drug-gist's at the low price of $1.00 per bottle. Restoration to health is now, therefore, within the reach of all by the use of this great life, strength and health renewer. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Dr. Greene, who prepares this greatest of all remedies, is the famous specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic discases, of 35 West 14th st., New York, and he can be consulted free of charge, personally or b

Among others on this Committee are Messrs. James A. Sample, William H. Gibson, William H. Storne, George H. Smith, Arthur P. Steward, William C. Keech and A. F. McMillan.

There are five vaults in the Sub-Treasury whose contents are to be counted. Mr. Roberts's representative, one of the Washington Committee, and one of the three officers of the Sub-Treasury who have charge of the vaults will go in and do the counting.

The silver vault is the largest, then there are two gold vaults, in one of which paper money is also kept, and two smaller vaults in which minor coin is stored, namely, coin from a nickel's value down.

The silver vault will take the longest time. It is about two-thrids full and has some $35,000,000 in it.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

His Fatal Success

WITH A PROLOGUE BY THE EDITOR,

MALCOLM BELL.

COPYRIGHT, 1889 .- BELFORD, CLARKE & COMPANY.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS. The author relates how he became acquainted with John Stuart, who was a fallow-clerk of his in a small couply bank in England. The two cierks became intimate and friendly. On New Year's Eve, 1803, Stuart recurred to be room. It was the last seen of him. The doors were broken open and the coun searched but no trace of Stuart. His disappearance was most mysterious. He had locked himself it his room and had never some out. How had be disappeared and why? A further search of the apartments revealed cothing but an envelope containing a note to the analysis with a roar's rent, and he wished his rooms reserved for him for that period. There was also a diary in which is few mysterious and unexplainable entries were made. The examination of the apartments proved that Stuart had never left them although he had vanished.

Dr. Malbottt states that he has reason to believe that the infant was improperly treated by Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarasparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsapa-rilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength im-proved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."
